

Strengthen your organisation with Lean Six Sigma!

Organisations have to deal with ever increasing demands by clients. They expect an excellent quality and a speedy delivery at a low cost. In order to deal with this demand your organisation needs to improve continuously and cut back on operating expenses.

Our GreenBelt Self-study will provide you with techniques en tools to tackle problems in processes, make an analysis and reduce found problems. You will also learn how to implement new solutions.

Target group

You are a manager and will start working with Lean Six Sigma. Your goal is to realise actual improvements. Or you are a professional who is confronted with the implementation of Lean Six Sigma improvements and you wish to be an equal sparring partner for your management. Or you might be an internal or external consultant assigned the task to lead a Lean Six Sigma improvement project as project leader.

Should you be unable to attend our regular 7-day training but you do want to get certified in Lean Six Sigma, our self-study is fitting and perfect for you.

Result

After finishing the GreenBelt training you will have a clear view of what Lean Six Sigma is, what the benefits of using the proper tools and techniques are and of course you will know how to implement the results. Subsequently you will have the knowledge and understanding of a GreenBelt and you will master the techniques to apply it in your daily work environment.

Lean Six Sigma 7-day training

Second thoughts on doing the self-study? We also provide a 7-day Lean Six Sigma GreenBelt training. Our 7-day GreenBelt Training is held in three time blocks (2-3-2 days).

For information on training dates and locations we refer to our website:

www.mkpc.nl/opleidingen.

If you want to organize an in-company training, we like to make individual arrangements about data and location that suits you!

Our lean six sigma green belt training is distinguished by...

... Learning by doing!

Theory becomes even more valuable if you can use it in your daily practice. That is why our GreenBelt Self-study offers many exercises and assignments. The combination of theory and exercises provides you with the opportunity to learn how to apply the theory.

... a combination of Tools and Mind-set!

It is of great importance not to see Lean Six Sigma as just a collection of techniques but also to pay attention to the human and interrelation and change management aspects. Those are the key elements of lasting success of implemented improvements.

...helpdesk manned by an experienced BlackBelt

You can bank on a 2-hour conference call with one of our Lean Six Sigma BlackBelts. No question remains unanswered!

...GreenBelt training at the same level as IIBLC®

The level of our GreenBelt Self-study can be compared to the IIBLC international acknowledged level of GreenBelts and offers you the opportunity to pass for the official GreenBelt Certificate.
